

Spring Festival Hanfu Party

Wide-sleeves fluttering as a dragon's breath carries us back to the Han and Tang dynasties? On set at a historical costume drama shoot? No, this was the first edition of iLen's Hanfu Party! iLen's 2018 annual Spring Festival dinner & the company's 15th anniversary celebration began in such a unique manner. iLen employees from all three branches put aside their jobs and put on traditional Chinese clothes to attend the event. Special guests and extended members of the iLen family also came to put on a show.

To the sweet sounds of the zither, the "models" dressed up in costumes typical of each dynasty and made a stunning entrance on stage. They walked gracefully on their catwalk, all charm and smiles. Green Snake, White Snake, Zixia Fairy, Samurai, Assassin... the classic characters came on stage one by one, and the performances, which were self-directed by each department, were met with loud cheers. iLen is indeed a team brimming with talent and beauty! iLen's first Hanfu party was not only a chance to wear traditional Chinese costumes, but was also a traditional cultural feast. As a localization company devoted to cross-cultural communication, iLen is not about to forget traditional Chinese culture. Through this unique Hanfu party, we not only appreciated the different styles of our colleagues, but also deepened our understanding of traditional costumes and culture. What will be the highlight of our annual meeting next year? Stay tuned!

Deep Cultivation and Blooming Brilliance

In 2017 iLen exceeded its annual business objectives. This achievement was down to the concerted efforts of all employees, but was also inspired by individual performances that served as a model. During the year, a number of employees made outstanding progress and performed excellently. After careful selection, Dream from the Shenzhen Head Office, and Lucas and Sara from the Chengdu branch were elected as "2017 iLen's Outstanding Employees."

In addition, Tracy, Vicky, Scarlett and Elodie were awarded the "2017 Best Progress Award". The Operations Manager Windy awarded each of them with medals, certificates, flowers and bonuses.

Localization is an industry that requires deep cultivation: only hard effort and gradual accumulation of skills and experience bring success. This is true of the company, but also applies to personal development.

The award-winning employees from 2017 perform different roles in the company, but each demonstrated the same dedication to their work with actions. They epitomize the iLen employee, embodying the professionalism, dedication, persistence, and devotion that makes the company what it is. This in turn strengthens the spirit of the whole team. We believe that by focusing on deep cultivation and developing healthy competition, iLen's future will be even more exciting!

Looks like the Japanese office was happy with the translation, there are very few changes this time, so thank you again for your high-quality delivery!

We received very positive feedback from the client, and I obviously could not have done this without my wonderful linguists and QA resources.

I look forward to working with you on more challenging projects and to receiving even better feedback from our clients.

Another terrific job. I always thought legal text in Dutch is the most difficult text to read, but English is not doing less. That someone can read it and translate it into a readable Chinese text is just beyond me.
